Now is the time to call for an investment in alternatives to incarceration and public transit in Wisconsin!!

People of Faith United for Justice is active day to learn, pray, and take action on issues such as prison reform, public transit, affordable housing, transitional jobs, and more. There will be a plenary, breakout sessions, lunch, march to the capitol and meetings with legislators.

Keynote Speaker: Rev. Bryan N. Massingale

Professor of Theology at Marquette University, Milwaukee. He specializes in social ethics and teaches courses on Catholic Social Thought, African American religious ethics, liberation theologies, and racial justice. His focus is on the impact of religious faith as both an instrument of social injustice and a catalyst for social transformation.
